About Us

Being in nature makes me
feel happy and more alive!
As does being with my team...

and this year was an especially good one to spend together outdoors, taking long walks amidst the prairie flowers, gathering inspiration, discussing creative challenges,
and sharing insights on just about everything.

We hopefully bring some of these to you on the following pages. Thank you for your continued enthusiasm for Willow Tree!

Sustainable Packaging

I am passionate about conservation of natural habitats and the wildlife that depends on them. This passion colors everything I do and make. So, sustainable packaging has always been a primary concern for our brand, while still keeping in mind price, breakability and shipping.

Improving the quality of our packaging materials is a constant focus of our team, and while it's not moving forward as quickly as we'd all like, it is indeed improving. Our goal is to use completely eco-friendly materials, from the recyclable cardboard exterior box and one-color ink, to the paper pulp or cardboard inserts that cradle and protect the sculptures, to the biodegradable baggies that protect the paint and finish of each piece. Every new piece is being packaged in this way, and every year we convert more of the older pieces to better packaging.

Each one of us, doing something small and positive, can make a difference. And whatever we do for our earth – for nature – is good for all of us! I find this to be an uplifting and hopeful message for the future.

28111 Cozy

Close together, we three

Height: 9.0cm

A soft-focus background image featuring a clear glass vase filled with dried white flowers and branches. In the foreground, a light-colored wooden block with a circular design is partially visible on a textured, light-colored surface. The overall tone is warm and cozy.

Cozy Close together, we three

“Make believe play, in a blanket fort or under the covers at bedtime, are some of my favorite memories of being a young mother with two little ones. Their imaginations are so fresh and free — it’s fun to let go and get on the same level with them. Rewarding moments of being cozy with my children... and now my grandchildren!”

28112 Courageous Joy

Courage to be seen, to be heard, to be healed

Height: 18.0cm

Courageous Joy

Courage to be seen, to be heard, to be healed

“With this figure, I’m celebrating pride in one’s heritage — how knowing the past gives confidence in the present, and a sense of who we are. Heritage can be expressed by customs or language, or as in this figure, textile patterning. The etchings that cover her are inspired by traditional African woven Kente cloth, mud cloth, and iconic Kuba cloth markings. African textiles have such vibrancy! And are tied to dance and rhythm and movement.

“She’s expressing who she is and celebrating the color of her skin. Her skin shines through and contrasts with the lively patterns. Her exuberant stance is a physical representation of what I hope she feels within. This piece is the opposite of being invisible. She’s standing up and standing tall, centered in courageous joy.

“As a healing piece, her gesture reflects the uplifting support of those who love and encourage her... who give her the strength to advocate for herself in the healing process. To face obstacles and aggressions with courageous joy, to be seen and be heard, is perhaps a shared healing made more powerful by connectiveness and community.”

"I embellished the surfaces with gold dots — symbolising light, or energy, hope, inner strength... gold connotes preciousness and enduring value, and I wanted this to be a special collection."

"I hope my granddaughters develop the closeness that I've always enjoyed with my two sisters. There's nothing like the love of a sister. It grows out of a shared history of funny, stormy, trying, joyful experiences... creating the foundation on which every strong relationship is built."

“Our healing touch is all about the hair. Hair is a symbol of our identity — who we are, how we see ourselves. Our hair differentiates us, but also connects us. Isn’t the first way we ‘date’ a photograph by the hairstyle? Hair is tactile, sensuous, and the touching and stroking of it can be comforting and healing. These women are connecting with each other in a quiet moment, attuned to each other, in harmony.”

Love / Friendship

A puppy brings joy, exuberance and a bit of chaos into the household at first, then mellows over time to become a companion, a playmate, a confidante; always happy to see us, never tiring of our presence.

As a metaphor for friendship, a dog represents the trust and comfort of a good friend, and how this relationship grows in value through the years.

“When carving this figure, I was influenced by the postures of classical sculptures, where the line of the shoulders is in opposition to the hips, or ‘contrapposto’. I wanted the gesture to involve her whole body — 360 degrees. So any way that the viewer turns the figure, there is movement and life and expression.”

“I look to things that bring joy, especially in difficult times.”
